BOULDER

Boulder has a great vibe as home to the University of Colorado and the ever-popular Pearl Street Mall. It's outdoorsy and dedicated to sustainable living.

COURTYARD BOULDER BY MARRIOTT

This is the first Courtyard Marriott in the area featuring the "refreshing business" makeover. The 149-room property with two meeting rooms recently reopened with the new Courtyard concept that features a bright, open lobby and separate welcome pedestals. Other highlights are communal tables in the middle of the action, private media booths with high-definition TVs, a semi-enclosed lounge area and a 52-inch LCD touch screen for finding unique local restaurants, attractions, maps, directions, weather and more.

ST. JULIEN HOTEL & SPA

This 201-room hotel is the ultimate in comfort and amenities with an elegant spa, a lobby that comes alive with music several nights a week, and the hip T-Zero lounge, featuring a round room in the middle that can host private parties of up to 25. This summer, Jill's restaurant added a patio with street-side seating. Outside, four terrace and garden areas provide nearly 6,000 square feet of additional event space, complementing nine indoor meeting rooms totaling almost 9,800 square feet.

In 2011, Loveland marks the 65th anniversary of its Valentine remailing program. It's only fitting that you can see 18 huge fiberglass hearts designed and painted by local artists sprinkled around the city through A City with HeART program.

{THEY SAY...} Campus Crusade for Christ International brings 5,000 people to Fort Collins every other year for its national staff conference. "We utilize Colorado State University's facilities, an easy fit for us. We've been there 20 years, and we like the environment. Fort Collins has opened its arms to us. It's a home away from home."

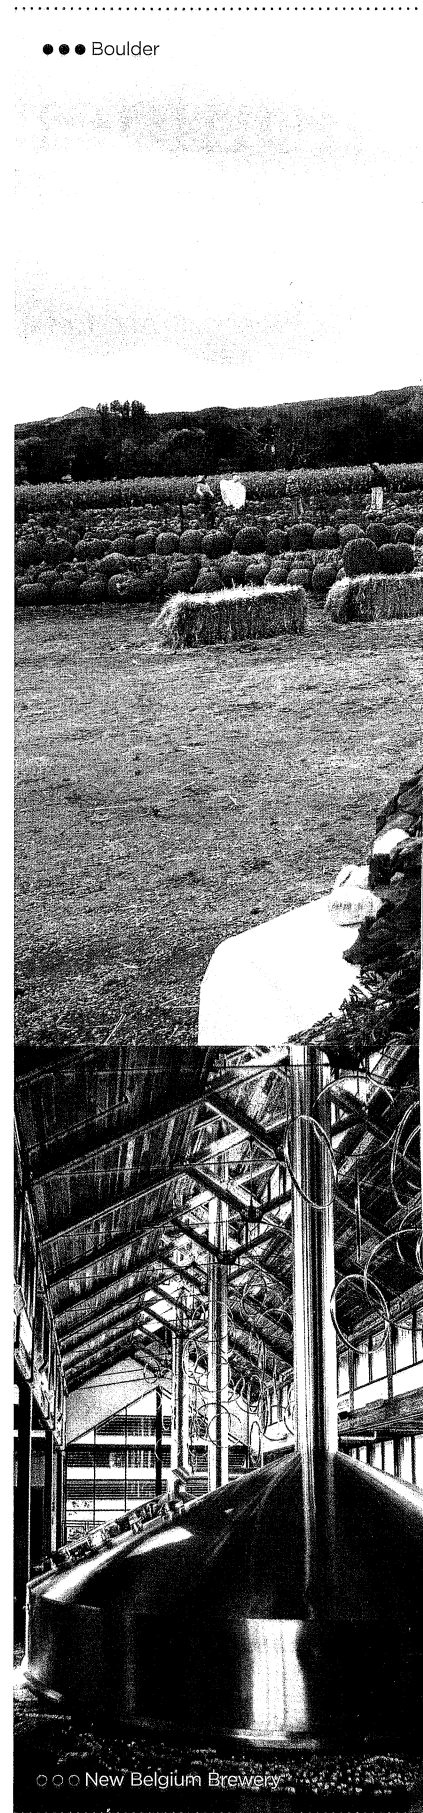

—ERIN INGLER, ACCOUNT EXECUTIVE, ARROWHEAD CONFERENCES & EVENTS, A SUBSIDIARY OF CAMPUS CRUSADE FOR CHRIST
